Riccardo Agostini clinches second podium of the season in Italian GT

2nd June 2016

TAKES ANOTHER PODIUM FINISH TOGETHER WITH ALBERTO DI FOLCO IN THE ITALIAN GT WITH THE ANTONELLI MOTORSPORT'S LAMBORGHINI HURACÁN GT3

Following the second place claimed at Monza early this month Riccardo Agostini clinched his second podium finish of the season last weekend at Imola in the Italian GT series, at the end of a rain affected Race 2, eventually red flagged with 17 minutes still to go.

After the P4 of Race 1, Agostini and his team mate Alberto Di Folco celebrated another brilliant result with the Antonelli Motorsport's Lamborghini Huracán GT3, and the Italian duo maintained the fourth position in the Super GT3 class standings.

In Race 2 Di Folco recovered from eighth to third, leaving the wheel at the pit stop to Agostini. In extreme conditions he made no major mistakes - going wide just once at the Rivazza bend and returning to track. At the same time the clerk of course decided to stop the race. As the final result was considered with the previous lap order, the Antonelli Motorsport crew finished third, after the seventh, second and fourth position claimed in the first four races of the season.

After a one week of break, the series will hit the track again at Misano, the 11-12 of June.
