

Other Weekend Action

Fabrizio Crestani and Matteo Greco won the first two Italian GT Sprint Championship races held at Monza. The Easy Race Ferrari pair won the opening bout after going against the grain to fit slick tires while most of their competitors took wets. The race was initially held on Friday, but heavy rain forced its suspension after five laps and a delay to Saturday. Results

Race two at Monza saw Antonelli Motorsport's Pro-Am pairing of Luca Segu and Bar Baruch claim top honors in their Mercedes-AMG. Crestani and Greco finished ninth to come away with 22 points, putting them on equal terms with Audi Sport Italia's Riccardo Agostini and Lorenzo Ferrari who placed fifth and second across the two races. Results